ELKS WILL GIVE MINSTREL SHOW

BURNT CORK ARTIST WILL APPEAR BEFORE TONOPAH AUDIENCE.

The Elks are rehearsing for a minstrel show that will be put on the boards in the immediate future. A committee consisting of Harry Downs, L. A. Gibbons, W. K. Wise, Puddy Grimes and P. E. Keeler have the matter in charge. When the curtain rises on the grand ensemble the audience will behold an aggregation of twenty-one count 'em—twenty-one burnt cork artists. Every one of whom has a national reputation, of what character at present is not given out. Among the features will be an imported director's gown, which will encase the form of Zeb Kendall, and the gallery is expected to refrain from remarks on the shape of Zeb's calves. This gown is a Worth (less) importation. L. A. Gibbons will act as interlocutor, while Ed Malley and Puddy Grimes will handle the bones, both being at the end of their string. Dr. Hammond will give a solo in imitation of Richard Jose, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie." Every note in this solo will be perfect as he has been practicing from the phonograph music which is wafted from the Nevada Club to his apartments. Harry Martin, who has a voice said to be the equal of Caruso, is scheduled to varble "Down Where the Wur-zurger Flows." W. K. Wise will give that famous impersonation of "Little Egypt."

The entire cast has not been selected as yet, but the committee say that some marvelous productions will be introduced. The costumes are being furnished from New York and will arrive here next Monday. The Elks will give an afternoon at home upon their arrival in order to give the wives and sweethearts of the men participating an opportunity of selecting the colors that go best with the complexions of the artists.

Location notices in triplicate—handiest affair for prospectors and miners—contains carbon—150 notices in book. For sale at the Bonanza office.

PERSONAL MENTION

OUT WITH KNIFE AND TOMAHAWK

DEMOCRATIC FACTIONS HAVE A HOT OLD TIME AT CAUCUS.

After the smoke of battle had cleared away in the preliminary skirmish by the Democratic braves, the field represented one of the most frightful scenes of carnage that has ever been witnessed since the battle of the Little Big Horn, where Custer met his last defeat.

The signal fires had been lighted and were burning from every knoll and hill. The tribes of McFadden-Pittman had unsheathed their scalping knives and tomahawks and the Thatcher-McIntoshes early donned their war bonnets and bedecked themselves in feathers and paint. Fire water had been dealt out with a lavish hand and the braves were then resolved to have each others' scalps dangling at their belts. The talk of peace by big Chief Smith of the McFadden-Pittman tribe sounded good, but the Thatcher-McIntoshes scented treachery. When he announced that as a suckling babe he had imbibed Democracy in Texas, a grunt went around the circle of Thatcher-McIntoshes that boded no good. When hostilities ceased for the night it meant that a more terrific combat will ensue at the primaries on the fifth of August.

The caucus of the Democrats of Tonopah district, Nye county, was called to order in the Miners' Exchange hall promptly at 8 o'clock by County Central Chairman W. R. McFadden, who stated in a few words the object of the caucus. There were present some 200 of the faithful, 189 of whom were aspirants for office, ten expected to get deputyships and the other was the janitor and he had to be there.

E. H. Smith and D. G. Robb were placed in nomination as presiding officer, the honor falling upon Smith. Upon Mr. Smith taking the chair he delivered an address felicitating the Democrats upon their being able to be in the hall and listen to him address them, while he referred to the deeds of that patron saint of Democracy, Thomas Jefferson. Tom had many eulogies, but he must have turned in his grave upon this recital of what he accomplished. The chairman then related a story of records in the justice court, following which he said that men only should be nominated by the Democrats who had records. (A voice in the audience: "He must have been scanning Judge Brissell's calendar.")

Walter Shelton, the follower of Blackstone, in a speech redolent of babbling brooks and green fields far away, placed in nomination W. J. McCabe for the office of secretary. Mr. McCabe was elected by acclamation and escorted himself to a desk on the platform. The chairman announced that the secretary would now read the following resolutions which had been dug up from the inside of McFadden's coat pocket and had evidently been prepared with a view to getting a Bryan steamroller push on the same. They are as follows:

Whereas, The use of more than one ticket or ballot will cause confusion in the minds of the voters, make more difficult the counting of the returns, permit the injection of the names of persons not nominated at this caucus, and tend to other mistakes and errors which this caucus desires to avoid, and,

Whereas, There is no method provided by law for meeting the expenses of a primary election, and no funds are available in the Nye County Democratic Central committee for such purpose, therefore be it

Resolved, First: That any member of this caucus may nominate one candidate, whose name will be placed upon the official ballot to be voted for at the primary election to be held in Tonopah precinct August 5, 1908, as a delegate to the Democratic state convention to be held at Tonopah August 31, 1908.

Second: That the names of all nominees, in the order of their nomination, shall be placed on one ballot to be provided by the Nye County Democratic Central committee and to be known as the official ballot. The judges of the election are hereby authorized and directed not to recognize or receive any other than the official ballot at such primary election; and if any such ballots are received, upon the count they shall be considered void and thrown out as such.

Third: That the nominations at this caucus do not be closed so long as any member of this caucus desires to nominate a candidate.

Fourth: That each nominee at this caucus, before his name is placed upon the official ballot, be required to pay to the chairman of the Nye

County Democratic Central committee the sum of $2.50 to go into a fund for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the said primary election; any surplus, after the expenses of the said primary election have been paid out of such fund, to be turned over to the treasurer of the Democratic club of Tonopah.

Fifth: That the Nye County Democratic Central committee shall have authority to leave the name of any nominee off of the official ballot if said nominee shall fail to pay the assessment hereinbefore provided for.

Bert McIntosh immediately upon the secretary finishing reading of the same scented trouble and moved that it be taken up seriatim. Considerable wrangling was indulged in and on motion of a delegate whose name was unknown and who announced that the preamble didn't amount to anything any way, consideration of the first section was taken up.

George Thatcher said it was against Democratic principles to have gag rule and that it was the privilege of any one to get into the ring and run for office.

Chairman Smith here took a hand and said the debts of the last campaign were not paid, whereupon Thatcher responded and the chair subsided.

At this juncture Boss McFadden saw a conflict impending and tried to pour oil upon the troubled waters and said he wanted everybody nominated at this "corkus."

J. J. McQuillan was brief and to the point. He arose in all his state-ly majesty and turning his Websterian countenance to the audience, waved his arms and emitted the following: "It must not; it shall not prevail."

McIntosh then took issue with Scheld, who also had something to say. Both gentlemen at this point were making points of order which were not sustained by the chair.

Key Pittman wanted principles and not candidates, and thought that any man had a right to go to the convention. Each man should be picked out, labeled and told to go on his way and sin no more. In the course of his remarks Mr. Pittman referred to the friends of McIntosh, whereupon McIntosh, who is nothing if not a parliamentarian, claimed the floor upon a question of personal privilege and proceeded to castigate Mr. Pittman to a fare-you-well.

As the fourth section was reached, in which every nominee was required to pay $2.50 before he was placed upon the official ballot, there was a dead silence, save for a tune called "Go Chase Yourself," which was being played by the Tonopah brass band while practicing next door.

A motion to adjourn was made from 100 different throats at this juncture, but the chairman of the finance committee gave notice that unless the $2.50 was deposited in the hands of the chief of police before Saturday night—bing for him—and his name would not appear on the official ballot. The resolutions were then adopted, including the preamble as a whole. An invitation was then extended to the assembled Democrats to append their names to the role of the new Democratic club. The audience held aloof until the speaker explained that it wouldn't cost them anything and then there was a mad rush and everybody wanted to sign at once.

Those whose names go on the official ballot are as follows: H. C. Schmidt, Ed Walker, Walter J. Agnew, J. Watt Briggs, Zeb Kendall, Charles G. Smith, William Grimes, B. H. Smith, W. R. McFadden, Travers H. Lynch, Milo Davidovich, P. A. McCarran, W. J. McCabe, Key Pittman, P. E. Keeler, James McCleary, Alex Dewar, O. H. Perry, H. J. Hall, Winston J. Stock, Thomas Lewis, George B. Thatcher, George F. Blakeles, J. P. McCloskey, J. J. McQuillan, Charles Kiehofer, A. R. Graham, Paul Tarpey, Walter Drysdale, T. J. Lydon, D. F. Cavanaugh, Gilbert C. Ross, James Timlin, D. G. Robb, Peter Hertel, W. J. Douglass, Owen Dougherty, John Gregovich, John Clendenning, Nick Kosich, Dr. J. R. Cunningham, Harry Downs, J. J. Byrne, Tom O'Neil, R. P. Dunlap, Joe Gori, Ed Malley and Bob Prouty were placed in nomination but declined to run.

GYMNASIUM IS NOW ASSURED

CONTRACT WILL BE LET TO CONSTRUCT BUILDING FOR FIREMEN.

The committee of the volunteer fire department, who has been working to secure a site for the proposed gymnasium, reported at the meeting last night that they had been negotiating with V. Carlson, the contractor, and that he had offered to build a building fifty feet in length by thirty feet in width, and that the cost would be about $2100. A substantial sum will be paid soon and will be followed by monthly payments. The trustees will sign the contract today and inside of a month the building should be completed.

The amusement committee reported that everything was in readiness for the benefit to be given the volunteers, the funds of which will go toward furnishing the gymnasium. The committee has rented both the Butler and Nevada theaters for the evening of August 5 and will put on a number of stunts in conjunction with the regular program.

By a vote of the body the office of one of the trustees was declared vacant as L. L. Mushett, who formerly occupied that position had moved to Goldfield. W. K. Wise was elected by acclamation to fill the vacant office.

OLE BLUMGREN IS AGAIN IN THE TOILS

ALLEGED THAT HE STOLE AN AUTO TIRE BELONGING TO SALSBERY.

Ole Blumgren, who has figured in several escapades which ended up in the police court lately, has again run afoul of the clutches of the law. This time Ole is charged with having appropriated an automobile tire, which it is alleged he detached from Jack Salsberry's Thomas Flyer. The warrant was sworn to by J. J. Griffiths and chief Malley soon had Blumgren in the city bastille. He was later released on $150 bail furnished by his friends who have come to his rescue times innumerable. The last time Blumgren was before the court on a charge of extracting money from an envelope which he was given to deliver in Tonopah, a jury saw fit to acquit him after he had made a confession of his guilt.

MAN ATTACKED IN HIS ROOM

BURGLAR ROBS AND SLUGS PAUL SERVANTE ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

One of the most daring and successful attempts at burglary was carried out in this city Wednesday night, the victim being Paul Servante, who was formerly in the restaurant business and known to all old-timers in this city, and the place, a room in the rear of the Depot hotel.

Mr. Servante had retired about 11 o'clock and in explaining the occurrence afterwards said that he had an intuition that some one was in his room. Thinking perhaps that it was a case of nervousness he finally dropped off into a half doze when he was awakened by hearing a man crawling from under the bed. As he arose to a sitting posture he was dealt a crushing blow on the forehead, either by the man's fist or a weapon. The burglar grabbed Servante's trousers, in which was concealed a $50 note, and hurriedly left the room with Servante in pursuit. The victim chased his assailant for several blocks and described him as being either a negro or a man of very swarthy complexion. The police were informed, but the meager description furnished little clew to work upon.
